A Dianic, Womyn-only Goddess Temple dedicated in the Spirit of Aloha to the preservation, perpetuation and promotion of Goddess culture, public ceremony, ritual and Womyn's Mysteries.

"Kulia i ka nu'u"

Strive for the summit. (Motto of Queen Kapi'olani)

She beckons to us. The Golden Throne awaits, empty and inviting. AuSet/Isis is calling your name, asking you to serve. Will you accept Her offer? Will you crown yourself as the Queen you are? Are you ready and willing to allow your own Power to fill your body, mind and spirit?

One by one each womyn approaches the Throne of Isis, some dancing, some stepping purposefully, some on bended knee. Each womyn speaks words from her heart from the Throne to her Sisters as she crowns herself Queen and accepts her own personal power into her life. "I am Queen," she says. "Hail Queen!" her Sisters answer. She lights a candle, signifying that her own light is shining, adding its beauty and brilliance to the Universe. Jesamyn Angelica

Aloha Daughters of the Goddess,

At this time of the changing of the seasons, the turning of the leaves, and the entering in to the Dark Time of the year, I greet you with my Aloha. This year has been very profound for me with many celebrations, including the happy marriage of my younger brother Phil. As many of you know, I was part of raising Phil after my mom's death from cancer when he was 9. I felt the energies coming full circle at his sacred wedding ceremony in Taos with a woman who is of Native American Spirituality, and was blessed by the Pueblo dancers doing a wedding dance. I am gifted with the knowledge that I have contributed a loving and spiritual male to the Goddess. I feel a sense of completion and release with this and also as both of my daughters have entered high school. My life is changing in huge ways and I call on your support and Aloha.

The Temple is growing and continuing to be a place for women to enter in to the Grace of the Goddess in a community setting. I would like to ask for your support in manifesting the Temple as a thriving entity for Her Daughters to circle, celebrate and learn from. I know many of you are receiving this newsletter and are unable to participate in person at our rituals. I would like you to ask your heart how you can serve/take care of/malama pono this community even in your absence. Malama pono is the act of taking care of and giving to those things we believe in--our culture, our land, our Elders. I invite you to gift back and malama pono this community. Many of the women here are volunteers who spend hours of time and devotion keeping our events going. We create 35+ ceremonies a year as well as Witch School and Retreats. Your energetic and heart contributions of money-energy will help to keep us growing and meeting the needs of the multitudes of women we serve.

Our next series will be dedicated to abundance and prosperity and the releasing of scarcity mentality. Please think about how you can be a part of this next series, whether you are able to be here in person or not. Every time we spend money there is an exchange of energy and a spell cast. I would ask that this be done with as much mindfulness and Aloha as possible. Please consider Daughters of the Goddess in your money magic as the more we grow and can support our mission, the more we can offer Her Daughters and the world, and the larger the transformation.

Blessings to you and all that you hold Sacred.

Aloha,
